FAIR SKIES GREET BIG DEFENSE DAY

Approximately 175 Men Answer Roll Call At the Pennsylvania Railroad Station This Morning In Answer to Summons

INSPECTED AND DISMISSED

Congregate Tonight At 7 At the Municipal Building For the Parade, Following Which An Address Will Be Made By Tom P. Sloan

Approximately 175 men answered roll call at the Pennsylvania Railroad station this morning for the opening exercises of the National Defense day. At 5:45 the fire alarm was sounded as a signal for assemblage, and in a very few minutes the "rookies" were reporting, the first to report after the signal was given being R. S. Coyle. "Bob" was followed closely by several others, who evidently had slept with their "boots on" in order to be out early. Plenty of time was allowed for the late comers before roll call was made by Chairman J. B. Tussing of the Citizens' committee. After roll call, the company was turned over to the Military committee, in charge of Captain E. W. Patton, who lined them up for inspection. Several sharp reprimands were administered by Captain Patton on account of smoking while in line; also for the manner of dress. After inspection, those who were compelled to report to their place of employment were dismissed, while the remainder were served with breakfast, the menu consisting of a cup of hot coffee, after which the company was dismissed for the day. Fair skies greet the day. Tonight at 7 o'clock all those who have volunteered for the day will assemble at the Borough building for parade. The parade will be in charge of Major Edwin McKay as Chief Marshal, and he will have as his aides Lieutenant Bannister Roberts, and Lieutenant Paul Trnavsky. The parade will march down Fallowfield avenue to Tenth street to McKean avenue and thence to the railroad station, where a patriotic address will be made by Tom P. Sloan of North Charleroi, while Rev. Dr. E. H. Greenlee of the M. E. church, will offer prayer.

The parade will be made up of borough officials, old veterans, Company B, 394th infantry, which will be made up of all those who have volunteered their services, and it is estimated that approximately 275 of them will be in line. This will be followed by Boy Scouts of Charleroi and North Charleroi. The Charleroi Slovak band will furnish the music for the parade and singing at the railroad station.

CHICAGO MURDERERS IN LINE WITH RANKS OF "LIVING DEAD"

State Penitentiary, Joliet, Illinois, Sept. 12.—Richard Loeb and Nathan Leopold, Jr., scions of millionaire families, college graduates, formed in line with the denim-clad ranks of the "living dead."

The boys, who murdered Bobby Franks for a thrill, were right up in line with other murderers, robbers, swindlers and from their solitary cell they marched to the prison chapel to attend Defense day exercises.

The sleek black hair, clipped down to prison style and wearing the customary prison garb, the prisoners stepped into the chapel and were lost sight of with the other prisoners. They were finally located in the ninth row, directly in the middle of the room with the 1,000 other prisoners.

MISS HIGH DID NOT SING AT A WEDDING

Miss Ruth High did not sing at the wedding of Miss Lena Marie Pendo and Joseph Cruse, which took place Wednesday morning in the Mother of Sorrows church, as was stated in the society columns of yesterday's paper.

LOCAL LADIES MOURN DEATH OF THEIR FATHER

Samuel Black, aged 75 years, a wellknown resident of Tarentum for many years, father of Mrs. F. C. White and Mrs. Frank Bruno, both of this place, died at the family home in 435 East Seventh avenue, at 9:45 Tuesday evening after a lingering illness. He had lived in Tarentum for a number of years.

Mr. Black leaves his widow Mrs. Amelia Black, four daughters, Mrs. A. J. Remaley of Detroit, Mich., Mrs. F. C. White of Charleroi; Mrs. Frank Bruno, of Charleroi; and Miss Ethel Black, at home; five sons, Charles Black, Jesse Black, Edgar Black, Milton Black of Tarentum and Glen Black of Chicago; one sister, Mrs. Jennie Berkholder of McKeesport. Eleven grandchildren and one great grandchild also survive.

Funeral services took place in the family home this afternoon at 2:30 conducted by the Rev. S. A. Farver, pastor of the First Baptist church. Interment followed in the Leechburg cemetery.

Charging that Dr. George C. Traugh, of Donora and Mrs. Celia Winters, also of Donora, falsely swore that the plaintif was not in his right state of mind, and thereby had him committed to the county home, Reuben Tempest, a carpenter living at Hazzard, has brought suit against these above named defendants to recover $5,000 damages.

The statement of claim sets forth that on August 26, last, Dr. Traugh and Mrs. Winters went before Albert Erdelyi and A. N. Jenkins, two justices of the peace at Donora, and charged that he, Reuben Tempest, "is unable to provide for his maintenance on account of not being in his right state of mind, is tearing the house inside out, will not let his wife alone, is always fighting."

It is set forth that he was taken to the Washington County Home, but that he was immediately discharged. Mr. Tempest denies that he is not in his right state of mind, and declares that he is able to provide for himself. He charges the defendants with conspiracy to injure him in his calling as a carpenter and to defame his character.

Charging recklessness and carelessness, Curtis I. Kossman of Canonsburg, has brought suit against H. L. Warren of Washington, to recover $950 for damages alleged done to the plaintiff's automobile in a collision with the defendant's machine.

The accident occurred on June 7, 1924, on the Pittsburgh pike, north of Canonsburg. The plaintiff, in a Packard touring car, was traveling towards Pittsburgh, he Buick automobile of the defendant collided with the plaintiff's machine, he avers, and as a result, a left wheel was broken, the fenders were damaged, a door broken and the car body was scratched. The plaintiff asks for $500 for repairs, and $450 for the time he was deprived of the use and earnings of his car.

PRISON IS GLOOMY TO BOY MURDERERS

State Penitentiary, Joliet, Illinois, Sept. 12.—Nathan Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb, "lifery," today were formally initiated into the colony of state prisoners.

Brought by automobile from Chicago, the young slayers of Robert Franks arrived at the prison shortly after dusk last night and were placed in solitary confinement.

Today they will be photographed for the Rogues' gallery, their fingerprints and Bertillon measurements will be taken and their long sleek hair will be trimmed. Then they will be sent to bathe and given regular prison suits to replace the temporary ones issued them when they arrived.

After that, if Warden John L. Whitman is satisfied with their attitude, they will be assigned to cells in the main cell blocks and put to work in one of the shops.

These formalities may be delayed until afternoon by "Defense day" exercises in the prison. All of the prisoners will be present at these exercises.

Nathan and Richard seemed to undergo a change as they entered the prison. They lost the nonchalant attitude that made them the wonder of the court room spectators. They tried to muster cheery grins of good-bye to newspapermen who "covered" their lengthy murder hearing in Chicago and who followed them to Joliet. But the best they could do was a wan smile. They appeared almost frightened, as though just coming to the realization of the meaning of Justice Caverly's sentence of life imprisonment.

A moment after they entered the grim walls, they were searched and supplied with suits of prison denim. They were led to solitary cells and shut off from the world.

Some time today Babe and Dickie will lose their identities and become numbers 9,306 and 9,305 respectively.

A tragedy, involving the principals, was narrowly averted during the fast [illegible] Springs, about half way to Joliet, the car carrying Nathan, Richard, Sheriff Hoffman, and Wesley Westbrook, superintendent of the Chicago jail, went careening off the road and onto the interurban tracks. The driver chose this to smashing into another machine ahead. As the machine crashed onto the tracks an interurban car, which had been shooting along at high speed, shrieked a warning and came to a grinding halt a short distance away.

NEW WARDEN FORMER HEAD OF SCHOOLS OF CONNELLSVILLE

Pittsburgh, Pa., Sept. 12—Stanley P. Ashe, former superintendent of Connellsville schools, was elected warden of Western Penitentiary to succeed John M. Egan, who resigned. Ashe has been connected with the educational department of the prison for some time.

David I. McCahill was appointed chairman of the board of trustees, succeeding H. D. W. English.

The board took no action on the petition of the guards who protested against the "cream puff" discipline, except to say that prisoners who violated the rules would be punished.

Contract For Local Church Is Awarded

The contract for the building of a new St. John's Russian Orthodox church was awarded yesterday to John Bizet, local building contractor, on his bid of approximately $40,000. The new structure, which will be of buff brick, will be erected between the old building, that was gutted by fire several months ago, and the parsonage in Lookout avenue between Tenth and Eleventh streets.

J. C. Bichon is the architect who designed the new building. Rev. Ernest W. Wolkodaff is the pastor of the church.

LEAPS FROM AUTO DIES OF HURTS

Miss Odelia Johnson, aged 21, colored, died in the Brownsville General hospital yesterday from injuries received on Tuesday morning of this week when she leaped from a skidding automobile, fell on the highway, and was run over by the car in which she had been riding.

The accident occurred on the road between Beallsville and Bentleyville. Three others were in the machine with Miss Johnson, but they were uninjured. Miss Johnson's injuries were so serious, however, that medical [illegible] and nurse aid at the Brownsville institution were unavailing.

NATION TESTING PATRIOTISM OF ITS CITIZENS

Washington, Sept. 12.—The nation today is testing the speed with which its man power can be assembled for war.

In every city and hamlet throughout the land, citizens are responding to a stimulated call for volunteers.

Behind closed doors at the war department, army generals sit around a table scanning reports pouring in from Corps area commanders, feeling the military pulse of the country.

Defense day, for which the army has been planning for months, both as a definite test of mobilization and as a tribute to its retiring head, Gen. Pershing, is on.

By tonight, the war department expects to have a satisfactory answer to two questions:

1.—Can the man power of the nation be mobilized fully and quickly under the machinery perfected by the army since the world war?

2.—Can a voluntary call produce the requisite number of soldiers for a first levy?

NO NEEDY "JEWISH POOR;" THE FUNDS ARE REFUSED

Wilkes Barre, Pa., Sept. 12—Declaring there is no "Jewish poor in their city, authorities of Bromberg, Poland, have refused to accept the estate of Mrs. Selig Cohen of Wilkes Barre, valued at more than $130,000 which was left to the Jewish poor of Bromberg, her native city, according to reports here today.

A valuable collection of oil paintings left Bromberg has been accepted by the municipal authorities, it is said.

Relatives here contested the will but lost the case. Under the will the city officials of Bromberg were made trustees of the estate but the Jewish community informed them there were no needy cases in the city and they refused the funds.

TO REMOVE LARGE AMOUNT OF WHISKY

Joseph Wright, of the revenue service, is at the Gibson distillery at Belle Vernon gauging 6,000 barrels of whisky that will be removed to the Sam Thompson distillery at Brownsville. This move is necessitated by the fact that the distilling property has been sold to the Pittsburgh Steel company. This whisky is all that remains of a stock of 100,000 barrels at the time of the passage of the Eighteenth amendment.

Three Persons Injured By Collision Of Autos Here Last Night

Three persons were injured and two automobiles were badly damaged in a collision which occurred last night at 8:30 in McKean avenue, near the water works. Ed. Brady, an employe of the U. S. Government at the Lock, driving an old Pennsy automobile, license No. 631,685, and Peter Lee of Crest avenue, driving a Franklin sedan, license No. 926,726, were arrested on a charge of reckless driving and will have their hearings before Burgess J. Bryant Tussing Monday evening at 7 o'clock. They left forfeits of $12 each for their appearance.

The car driven by Brady was returning from Belle Vernon, and was occupied beside himself by Ed "Dutch" Metz, sitting in the front seat, and Art Feehan and Joe Biesenkamp, of North Charleroi, in the tonneau. When the two machines collided, Feehan and Biesenkamp were thrown, from the car by the force of the crash and pitched on their heads to the street. Both boys were badly lacerated about the head. They were taken to the office of Dr. Edwin McKay, where their injuries were administered to. The other two occupants were not injured.

Mr. Lee was not injured, but his companion, Clyde Miller, of Charleroi, was lacerated about the head and face from the flying glass of the broken windshield. Mr. Lee was driving towards Speers.

William Sims, who resides in Meadow avenue and Tenth street, was arrested on complaint of his wife, charged with disorderly conduct. He will have a hearing on the charge before the burgess this evening at 7 o'clock.

SLEUTHS SAY CLUE FOUND IN A BIG JEWELRY ROBBERY

Port Washington, L. I., N. Y., Sept. 12—A definite clue has been discovered in the Cosden-Mountbatten $125,000 jewel robbery, detectives said today and an arrest may be [illegible]

Suspicion points definitely in one direction, it was said, detectives indicating they know the person or persons who took diamonds and pearls from the wife of J. S. Cosden, oil millionaire, and Lady Mountbatten, a member of the Prince of Wales party, visiting at the Cosdens [illegible] Island home, the Cedars.

Private detectives, representing Lloyds and other big insurance companies, are in charge of the investigation.

The thief, it developed today, overlooked a pearl necklace valued at $600,000 in an unlocked drawer in Mrs. Cosden's dresser when he ransacked the bedchambers of the Cosden's and their guests early Tuesday.

ELLSWORTH NO. 1 IS NOW WORKING

The Ellsworth mine No. 1 of the Bethlehem Mines Corporation located at Ellsworth, near Bentleyville, resumed operations Tuesday morning, September 9 after being closed down for a period of 11 months.

Orders were received by Mr. J. P. McCune, Superintendent of the Ellsworth Division, on Monday morning to the effect that operations be resumed at this mine immediately on a 100 per cent basis.

When working full capacity this mine employes 500 men, 200 of which entered the mine on Tuesday morning. By next Monday it is expected to have the mine in condition to load the normal output of coal which is between 4000 and 4500 tons daily.

This is the second mine owned by this corporation to resume operations recently. The Acme mine, located at Bentleyville, which resumed operations a few weeks ago, on a four-day-a-week basis is now working full time, with between 450 and 500 men at work.

The Ellsworth No. 3, located at Cokeburg, and the Marianna mine, located at Marianna, it is reported will both resume operations in the near future, these mines are the remaining idle mines owned by this corporation on the Pigeon Creek branch.

THE COUNTIES TO UNITE

Expense Would Be About $500,000 — Attorneys Engaged to Bring Proposition to Attention of the Courts of Both Counties

Last evening in the secretary's rooms of the Charleroi Chamber of Commerce Municipal building, members of the local Chamber met in regular session, a directors' meeting. A committee of gentlemen, representative of the towns of Allenport and Fayette City, were present in the interests of the construction of a bridge across the Monongahela river between the two places, to be built conjointly by the two counties, at a cost which would be approximately $500,000. The local members of the Chamber of Commerce gave assurance of their sympathy with the movement, went on record as favoring it, and will do all in their power to bring about the desired result. Displacement of the ferry boat has long been under consideration.

To build the bridge means that the counties of Washington and Fayette will have to divide pro rata the expense entailed. Attorneys have been engaged to present the importance of the construction of the bridge to the courts of the two counties. A board of viewers would have to be named, composed of representatives of the two counties, who would in turn make their recommendations to the courts, after which, on courts' order, the commissioners could build the structure from funds derived from the general tax levy, or by other method. It is hoped to have as speedy action as possible in the important matter.

The State Chamber of Commerce has written to the various local Chambers of the proposition of boys leaving school, some before the age of 16, and others after they are 16. It was thought that there are cases where "necessity" in the matter is a creature of imagination in the minds of the boys, and their parents, very oft; that their "going to work" is not compulsory, and that they ought to be in school.

In this connection it may be well to say that it is very often the case that the boy or the young man knows not what vocation in life he should choose; and to assist him in this regard the local Chamber of Commerce will, in the future, map out a program where business men can address the students of the High School on the line of commerce in which he is engaged, that the student may gain an idea of what particular calling he wishes to take up.

SAILORS DROWNED AS BOATS COLLIDE

PEKIN PRACTICALLY UNDER MARTIAL LAW

Pekin, Sept. 12.—Pekin was placed under what amounted to martial law today by an order extending the powers of the gendarmerie.

Sixty thousand troops were in readiness to repel an invasion from the north.

Chang Tso Lin is mobilizing his full forces and moving southward from Manchuria, explaining as he advances that this is merely a customary "Autumn manuever."

The Pekin government headed by President Tsao Kun and maintained by the alliance of Wu Pei Fu and Chi Hsieh Yuan, has announced its unalterable opposition to any intervention by the powers. It is willing to stand or fall on the strength of the present unification police.

THE "WILD BULL" IS TAMED BY HARRY WILLS, NEGRO, IN DISAPPOINTING BATTLE

Boyle's Thirty Acres, Sept. 12. — From out of a labyrinth of knockout predictions, legal proceedings and empty challenges, Harry Wills, veteran negro from New Orleans, emerged an inglorious victor over Luis Angel Firpo in an uninteresting 12-round bout here last night.

In only two rounds did anything like action assert itself. This was in the second, when the big negro, inaptly termed "the panther," caught the South American flush on the point of the jaw with a long right coming out of a clinch. Luis went down flat on his back but was up at the count of three and managed to hold on until the bell. Again in the seventh round the big, burly negro planted a terrific right directly to the pit of Firpo's stomach, causing the "Wild Bull" to emit an audible groan and sag perceptibly at the knees.

On both of these occasions, however, the South American displayed a true fighting heart by coming back for more.

In fact, Firpo was more than anxious to open up and fight. He endeavored throughout the listless affair to make Harry cut loose and start swinging, but this the negro refused to do. He could not forget his brittle hands and played one lone only, left hand hooked under Firpo's right shoulder and looping his own right to the ribs and kidneys.

In crude, brute strength, Wills proved the complete master. The "Wild Bull" was literally held by his figurative horns with Harry's long left and took a bad body beating with the sinuous brown right. Firpo tried gamely at all times, but was no match for the goliath Wills.

The crowd of 70,000 that turned out was sorely disappointed at the exhibition. A bout replete with clinching and cumbersome work at close quarters is never interesting, especially to those in the bleachers and back row seats. They were therefore not slow in greeting the finish with a loud and resounding collection of boos and hisses. They came to see a knockout and went away cheated. The nearest semblance was a knockdown for the count of three in the second.

One of the interested and no doubt one of the most amused spectators at the ringside was the champ himself, Jack Dempsey sporting his brand new nose. What Dempsey thought will come out in the wash, but one thing is certain, he entertains no fear of losing his title to either of the men seen in action last night.

FORMER BUC SMACKS HOMER AT BUFFALO TO BEAT CORSAIRS

Billy Webb, who once wore the uniform of the Buccaneers, gave his former teammates a dose of strike one yesterday afternoon on at Buffalo, N. Y., game when only one was retired in the last of the ninth by hoisting the ball out of the park, thereby counting two points and winning the game 5 to 4.

Little William previously had pounded [illegible] another Bison on the paths in front of him and stood camped on the extra on big Bill Kelly, heavy hitting first baseman, sliced the old apple out of the park, this knock being the only one of the three which came when the bases were empty.

All these wallops cleared the short left field wall. The breeze from Lake Erie was strong and raw. This, combined with the fact that Babe Ruth and his Yankees are billed for a sideshow there today held the crowd to about 500. The ball ground was soaked from the late rainy spell and many barrels of gasoline were spilled and ignited yesterday morning to help by cooking some of the dampness out of the soil but leaving the footing still too heavy to make base stealing safe and sane.

ANSWERS TO MANY QUERIES BY COPELAND

Faculty Manager D. W. Copeland has announced that the game with Washington High School was not scheduled on account of the fact that the W. & J. College authorities offered "Hank" Day the use of the College field on the date that was coming for the game. As Charleroi played at Washington in 1922, it was Washington's turn to appear at Charleroi. This will answer the many queries made concerning this question.

An effort is being made to schedule a good drawing card for the open date of October 25 and still allow for a slight tie-up. Canonsburg High School has requested a two-year contract beginning in 1925. It is possible that Fredericktown High School who boasts of a strong team, will be scheduled on that date.

TRAINER BELIEVES RAY FAY WILL BE A CHAMPION

Bob O'Cane, a trainer of Ray Fay, brother of the redoubtable Harry Fay, sends us a clipping from a Louisville, Ky., paper, relative to Ray Fay, which is self-explanatory. Mr. O'Cane believes that Ray will "get there" in a few more years' experience, and that when he returns to Charleroi, he will be Dixie's champion middleweight, light heavyweight, and heavyweight.

Referring to Ray Fay, the Louisville paper says:

"Ray Fay, Harry Fay's highly touted brother, has arrived here and is already at work priming himself for thecoming novice tourney to be held September 19. The incoming Fay is a bit huskier than Harry. He also is in trim condition. All who have taken a glimpse of him think he may prove a better performer than his brother when he had had sufficient experience.

[illegible] middleweight, light heavyweight and heavyweight divisions. In the heavyweight class he is sure to combat a number of classy lads. He will have no easy time of it, for he will meet the present champion, Teddy Annan, and everybody knows Teddy is no slouch.

'Teddy is back in the game and will defend his title against all comers. He says he is extremely anxious to retain his crown. He is planning to enter the professional ranks, but wants to do so with his crown still in his keeping. Last year Annan proved one of the best performers in the tourney.

He received a number of opportunities to enter the pro ranks, but turned them all down. Not however, should he beat the hefties and again win the title he will forsake the novice ranks for the professional division. Matchmaker Tommy Devlin of the Southern Athletic club has already promised Annan he will start him in a preliminary if he wins the title again.

'Another titleholder of the 1923 tourney is out to retain his crown. This is Bobby Waldon, the Germantown lad. Bobby copped the top honors in the bantamweight division. He demonstrated last year he has the makings of a real good boy. He is a rall chap, slimly built.'

FOOT BALL OPENING SEES MANY CHANGES IN THE COACHES

Opening of the football season among the high schools of Washington county will find an unusually large number of changes in coaches, "Hank" Day, at Washington High; Al Weirman, at Monongahela; Reed Dunn, at North Franklin-South Strabane; Steve Stepanian at Charleroi, and W. L. Vankirk at Bentleyville, being the only old mentors to retain their positions for the coming campaigns.

Changes in the coaches at Washington county schools have been made for varying reasons. Some made records which were so impressive that they were given better offers while some gave up their athletic efforts to continue their studies in professional schools.

Charles Winterburn, who won lasting fame for himself at Donora by developing a team which beat Monessen after 15 years of trying, has gone to the Pacific coast, mentor, "Pop" Warner, to take a position as instructor in the art of gridiron play at a junior high school which hsends most of its athletes to Leland Stanford, where "Foxy" Glenn is now in charge. Winterburn has been succeeded at Donora by John C. Anderson also a former Pitt star. Anderson was a member of last year's Pitt team and Donorans hope he will continue the good work started by Winterburn.

Another coach who had a highly successful season, J. E. McClenahan, former Muskingum college player, is back at McDonald High school for a few weeks but will take up the study of medicine at the University of Pennsylvania. McDonald did not lose a game last season when McClenanan was in charge. Virgil Wallace, tackle of last fall's team at Muskingum, has been chosen coach at McDonald to fill the vacancy caused by McClenahan's resignation.

George Thomas, former Geneva college star, whodeveloped the strongest eleven last fall that has ever represented California High school, resigned his position there to accept a similar one at Ambridge High. "Bing" Miller, Allegheny starfi has taken charge at California but faces a rebuilding task as the school lost several of its best players. California under Thomas lost but one game last fall being beaten by Charleroi by one touchdown.

A. D. Morganthall, a former Dickinson college gridiron athlete, who coached Gettysburg High school last fall, is thenew gridiron mentor at East Bethlehem Township High school, Fredericktown, he succeeding John Glunt, of California a former California Normal athlete.

Canonsburg this year has Harry McHenry, former Waynesburg college gridiron star, who coached at Carmichaels High School last fall. Canonsburg had a volunteer coaching system last fall, C. C. Conaway, of Houston, giving his time and services to the school free of charge. McHenry is the first paid coach in the history of the school. Ten of last year's varsity eleven at Canonsburg were lost by graduation in the spring.

Russell Doing, former Allegheny college athlete, resigned his position as athletic director at Burgettstown High school, to enter the law school of Yale this fall. O. G. Taylor, who played at Ohio Northern, has been named his successor and has a squad of 35 boys working out at the present time.

HAS MAKINGS OF REAL CHAMP IS THE CLAIM

William Peet, sporting editor of the Pittsburgh Post, says Willie Davies of Roscoe has the makings of a real champ. In this morning's Post Mr. Peet says:

"Willie Davies of Roscoe, a little coal mining town near Charleroi, who cleaned up in the flyweight class in the amateurs last winter, has turned pro and is under the managerial wing of Jim Buchanan of Charleroi.

"Davies has won every professional fight to date, and a brilliant future is predicted for him. He is in a division where good boys are scarce and flyweights are always an attraction.

"Friends of the little Roscoe battler predict that he will eventually be in line for the championship, providing he does not take on poundage as he grows older."

HIGH TEMPERATURE EFFECT ON THE BODY

Man Cannot Endure More Than 90 Degrees F.

Washington.—That the human body, in a state of rest and in still air, cannot endure indefinitely a temperature higher than 90 degrees Fahrenheit with 100 per cent relative humidity, has been determined by Department of Interior investigators at the Pittsburgh experiment station of the bureau of mines, co-operating with the American Society of Heating and Ventilating Engineers. In the course of the tests it was noted that the heavier and stouter men in the experiments, when subjected to uncomfortably hot temperatures, lost more weight than the lighter and thinner men, but as a rule could endure such temperatures for a longer period and complained less of the exhaustion which followed.

Loss of weight in the subjects experimented with gradually increased with an increase in atmospheric temperature. Whenever the subject drank ice water he immediately gained in weight, and in all cases the subject, within 24 hours, usually regained the [illegible] drank ice water freely after exposure to high temperatures felt no ill effects, tending to disprove the assumption that such action develops severe cramps.

It was found that the exhaustion and weakness following subjection of human beings to a very high temperature [illegible] is not so severe as subjection to a moderately high temperature and humidity for a longer period.

Take Pulse Rate.

The pulse rate, rather than the rise in body temperature, apparently determines the extent of the discomfort experienced by the subject. Subjects became very uncomfortable after the pulse rate exceeded 135 pulsations per minute, and complained of unbearable and distressing symptoms when the pulse exceeded 160 per minute. The highest pulse rate recorded was 184 per minute. Subjection to high temperatures and humidities produced no marked change in the respiratory rate.

The health, comfort and efficiency of men engaged in the mining industry may be impaired, in some instances very seriously, by abnormal physical conditions of mine air or by variations in its composition. This is true in some of the metal mines of the West, where high temperatures with varying humidities are encountered. Physiological studies have been made by the bureau of mines in some of the mines showing the effects of various temperatures and humidities.

As it is difficult to carry out studies on many controlled temperatures, it was thought best to make the present experiments in a laboratory and apply the results to the mining industry in so far as practicable.

The experiments were conducted in two fully equipped chambers, insulated by cork board, designed to maintain air conditions at a desired temperature and humidity. The temperature, humidity and air motion of each room may be controlled independently of each other. The air conditions are controlled by apparatus outside of the chambers and entirely separated from them. Instruments for observing the body and surface temperatures of the subject also for recording the rate of respiration and of the heart pulsations, and the apparatus for basal metabolism work are located in an adjoining room.

Record Temperatures.

The oral temperature of each subject was registered by the one-minute clinical thermometer, while the surface temperatures were recorded by means of thermo-couples in contact with the body and connected to a potentiometer in an adjacent room by means of flexible wires. Surface temperature readings were taken without the knowledge of the subjects.

In addition to counting the rate of respiration by an observer, the rate was also recorded at intervals unknown to the subject by means of an inflated tube strapped around the chest and connected by long rubber tubing to the kymographion placed in the room adjoining the chamber. The wave lengths were traced on smoked paper encircling the drum of the instrument.

While irrelevant to the present study, an attempt was made to determine the cause of the inflammation of the eyes, of which workers in the industries so frequently complain. On a day when the eyes were normal a small quantity of sweat, which had been collected during an experiment, was dropped in the eye. The conjunctiva almost immediately became inflamed and the eye felt sore. The sweat collected from the face seemed less irritating to the eye than that collected either from the chest or arms. Sweatbands were then applied to the forehead during the experiments these preventing the sweat from falling into the eyes and also preventing the inflammation. This proves sufficiently that sweat is the chief factor in producing the conjunctivitis which accompanies exposure to heat, the investigators say.

"All too often women accept their pains and aches as natural to their sex. They fail to realize that weak kidneys are often to blame for that backache, those headaches, dizzy spells and that tired, depressed feeling. Thousands have found new health and strength by helping the weakened kidneys with Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic. This Charleroi case is one of many:

Mrs. Olin Harper, 224 Washington Ave., says: "I was taken with an attack through the small of my back became so lame I couldn't do much of anything. When I stooped, sharp pains darted through the small of my back and I felt miserable. Dizziness came on when I made a quick move. Doan's Pills fixed me up in fine shape and I know my cure is permanent."

TWO MILLION LAWS.

Much has been said in recent years about the multiplicity of our laws and the continuing production of enactments, State and Federal, in a manner suggesting an ever more rapidly revolving grist mill, but perhaps nothing quite so staggering has appeared as the following in the Southern Lumberman: "There are 2,000,000 laws in force in the United States. If a man could familiarize himself with 10 of them each day he would be qualified to act as a law-abiding citizen in the short space of 6,000 years."

Unfortunately we have too many laws, particularly those of a sumptuary character which tend to restrict individual freedom and originate in the mind of half-baked reformers running up and down the country clamoring to legislate supposed virtue into the people. But the Southern Lumberman's statement is an extravagance. It is not necessary for the average citizen to take heed of more than a small proportion of our "laws." Vast numbers of them are little more than administrative decisions which do not directly concern him. The great majority of legislative acts are decisions of a business nature. Congress and the State legislatures are conducting an enormous business as well at attempting to check crime and regulate the lives and conduct of the people.

Really, I haven't counted them either this year or last.

Jack—I was over to see her last night, when someone threw a brick through the window and hit the poor girl in the ribs.

Jim—Did it hurt her?

Jack—No, but it broke three of my fingers.

This lets me out, said the man as he opened the door.

A Monessen man kindly explains a fact that may puzzle many, as follows: Some women are so sensible and matter of fact, that a man simply can't talk silly to them, hence they never have any lovers.

It very often happens that the finishing touches on friendship are the touches for loans.

LIQUID MACHINERY.

Sappo: Is that so? Well, you can send me up a dozen bottles. I'll try anything once.

NOT ALWAYS.

Well, I don't know about that. An oil stock promoter got mine easily enough.

He Is Looking 'Em Over Again

"Eight years of stomach and liver trouble reduced me to a walking skeleton. My skin was dried up and as yellow as a twenty-dollar gold piece. I was filled with gas and had severe pains in my right side. I could not think and had lost all ambition to do anything. Doctor's medicine did not touch me. My cousin advised Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, which snatched me from the grave. I have gained sixty pounds, eat like a hired man, and am looking 'em over again." It is a simple harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. At all druggists.

Incident Well Called Impossible, but True

Most persons can remember at least one startling coincidence in their experience. The elder J. Pierpont Morgan liked to tell of one lucky encounter he had while he was seeking a pair of vases to complete a set of Sevres table decorations on which he had set his heart. Collectors had been ransacking Europe for them in Mr. Morgan's behalf, and then one stormy night—as Mrs. J. Borden Harriman tells the story in "From Pinafores to Politics"—he arrived in London from Liverpool, having come from America without warning the servants when to expect him.

As he ran up the steps and put his latch key to the door a shivering figure in the vestibule drew two vases from under a torn coat and murmured, "I've been going from house to house all day; won't you buy these, sir? My children are starving."

The light from the half-opened door fell on what seemed to be porcelain from the famous set. While the man waited Mr. Morgan rushed upstairs to compare the marks. They seemed the same, but it wasn't possible!

"How much do you want for them?" he demanded when he came down.

The man asked a small price, took the money and melted away into the night.

The next day all the London connoisseurs were at Morgan's house, exclaiming, "It's impossible, but true!"

The vases matched, and the set was priceless.

"I wasn't expected in London," said Mr. Morgan. "The man didn't know what Sevres was worth. I never could trace him. How did it happen that of all London to come to my house and at that moment?"—Youth's Companion

To a Lady

Who refuses to use clay
Edna Wallace Hopper

A lady writes me that my beauty helps have brought her wonderful results, but she adds: It's too much trouble to use clay."

Too much trouble!

Photo 1923

In my stage work and in these efforts to help women I work 15 hours a day. Yet I would rather miss three meals than miss my clay.

Too much trouble! You see what clay has done for me. Mine is a grand mothers age, yet I enjoy a debutante's complexion.

Let me send you a test of my White Youth Clay. It is not like the crude and muddy clays so many have employed. It is white, refined and dainty—the last word in facial clays. And it combines in one product many superlative helps.

My Youth Clay purges the skin of all that clogs and mars it. It removes the causes of blackheads and blemishes. It brings the blood to the skin to nourish and revive it. The result is a rosy afterglow which amazes and delights. It firms the skin, combats lines and wrinkles, reduces enlarged pores, eliminates surplus oil.

Many women seem to drop ten years with one application of this clay. To countless women it is bringing priceless benefits—new beauty and new youth. Are such results not worth to you a few minutes twice a week?

Clay is a beauty essential. Famous beauties have for ages used it. No woman can hope to look her best without it, or to keep her youth as I have. You can recognize clay users in every circle by their beautiful complexions.

Mine is a super-clay—a new type clay—based on 20 years of scientific study. I have placed it with all drug stores, all toilet counters, so you can get it. The cost is 50 cents and $1. You will thank me for it—always—when you learn what it means to you.

I will gladly mail sample if you mail this coupon.

SHERIFF'S SALE

By virtue of a writ Lev. Fa. Sur Mortgage Number 17 Nov. Term, 1924 issued out of the Court of Common Pleas of Washington Couty, and to me directed, on which inquisition and exemption are waived, there will be exposed at Public Sale at the Sheriff's Office of Washington County Court House, Washington; Washington County, Pa., Saturday the fourth day of October, 1924, at 11 o'clock a. m., of said day, the following described Real Estate, to-wit:

All the right, title and interest of Woodward Motor Corporation, of, in and to all those two certain parcels of land situate in the Borough of Donora, Washington County, Pennsylvania, and being all of lot numbered Eight (8) and part of lot numbered fourteen (14) in Fred E. and Robert F. Heslep's Plan of lots in said Borough, which said plan of lots is of record in the Recorder's Office of said county, in Plan Book Number Four, Page 79, and said parcels of land hereby conveyed, are separately described as follows, viz:

1. Said lot numbered Eight (8) in said plan of lots fronting forty (40) feet on Tenth street, and running back therefrom, preserving a uniform width of forty (40) feet, a distance of one hundred (100) feet, to lot numbered fourteen (14) in said plan of lots, upon which is erected a one story brick garage building.

2. The Eastern end of lot numbered fourteen (14) in said plan of lots, lying between Tenth and Eleventh streets, fronting on the West side of Meldon Ave., a distance of twenty-five (25) feet and running back in a westerly direction a distance of one hundred (100) feet to a party line, on which said party line said parcel of land fronts a distance of twenty-five (25) feet, upon which is erected a one story concrete block machine shop.

Being the same property as was conveyed to Woodward Motor Corporation by deed of A. J.. O'Donnell, dated July 15, 1920, and of record in Recorder's Office of said County in Deed Book Vol. 488 page 563.

Taken in execution as the property of Woodward Motor Corporation, at the suit of Union Trust Co., of Donora, Pa.,

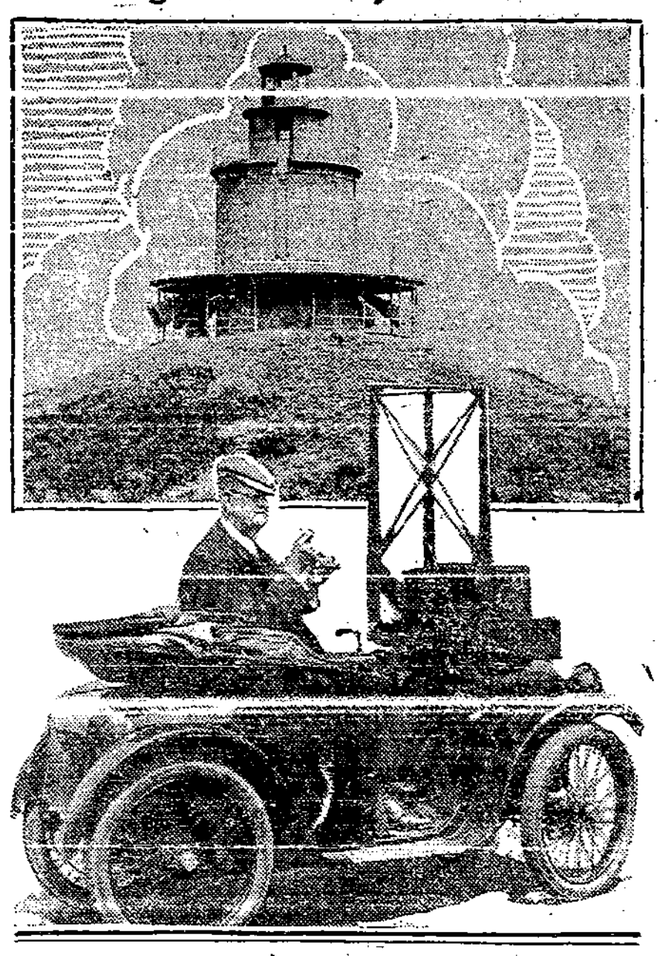
Broadcasting of Movies by Radio Sought With Hetty Green Millions



The millions left by Hetty Green, famed woman financier, to her son, E. H. R. Green, are back of experiments which are expected to result in the perfection of a device to broadcast motion pictures by radio. The experimental work, described as already partly successful, is being done in the $500,000 radio laboratory (shown here) on the Green estate at South Dartmouth, Mass. Green is shown in a radio-equipped auto.

The Personal Side

Mrs. Martin Eckert of Roscoe was a caller in Charleroi yesterday.

G. F. Wright of Monessen, was a business caller in Charleroi last evening.

J. S. Miller of Miller's Fashion Shoppe is in New York, spending the week on his annual Fall buying trip.

Howard W. Marx and Harry W. Geho, both of this place, motored to Pittsburgh this morning to spend the day.

Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Woodward of McKean avenue, were among the local folk in attendance at the Dawson Fair yesterday.

Mrs. George Weise and Mrs. C. E. Wallay have returned to their home in Butler, after spending the week with the former's daughter, Mrs. Alfred Murray of Pennsylvania avenue North Charleroi.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Harold Smith of Washington avenue, and Mr. and Mrs. William C. Hancock of Fallowfield avenue, are enjoying a few weeks' motor trip to eastern points of interest including Canada.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Kelley, nephew Charles Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Miller and family, all of McKean avenue, motored to Palmer last evening and visited with Mrs. Kelley's sister, Mrs. J. B. Rissle of that place.

Misses Mattie Kelley of McKean avenue, and Mable Baker of Crest avenue, were in Homestead last evening, in attendance at the Epworth League conference held at the Homestead Methodist Episcopal church.

Miss Katelyn Giles of Homestead granddaughter of Mrs. Martin Eckert of Roscoe, who recently underwent a successful operation for the removal of the appendix in the Charleroi-Monessen hospital, has returned to her home in Homestead.

Alfred Murray of Pennsylvania avenue, North Charleroi, who has been spending his vacation with the members of the Quarter Million Dollar club of the Canadian Life Insurance company, at Spring Lake Beach, New Jersey, has returned home.

Mrs. Charles Shephard of McKean avenue, has returned home after spending a few days' visit with relatives and friends in Monaca and Pittsburgh. Mrs. Shephard, who is employed at the Woodward Furniture and Carpet Company, is enjoying a two weeks' vacation.

Mrs Alfred Murray of Pennsylvania avenue, North Charleroi, was hostess at a meeting of the Charleroi 500 clubs at her home Monday evening. Cards were the main diversion of the evening, the favors being awarded to Mrs. William Stopp and Mrs. William High. The serving of a dainty luncheon concluded the evening.

Joseph Ogden Crouch, five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Crouch of Meadow avenue, was taken to the Charleroi-Monessen hospital yesterday morning and underwent an operation there for the removal of the tonsils and adnoids. He was able to be removed to his home last evening and this morning his condition is reported as very satisfactory.

Alan Brenton, A. J. Puckinger and Winifred Phillips, representatives of Charleroi High School, have enrolled as students at Carnegie Institute of Technology Pittsburgh this year, and will begin their studies within a few days. The pre-enrollment report from Carnegie Tech indicates that the total registration this year will be one of the largest in its history. The number of out-of-town students seeking admission to the various courses is said to be unusually large. Classes in the first semester are scheduled to begin Wednesday, September 17.

INJURY TO A MAN CAUSES HIM TO COMMIT SUICIDE

Wasil Wasiloff, aged 48 years of Ellsworth, near Bentleyville, committed suicide Friday evening, Septem- [illegible] worth, by shooting himself.

Wasiloff who had been employed at the Ellsworth and Cokeburg mines of the Bethlehem Mines Corporation for the past 18 to 20 years, it seems, received an injury sometime ago which has caused him considerable worry and which it is thought caused him to commit the rash act.

The deceased and his wife had been sitting in the kitchen talking, when Mrs. Wasiloff had occasion to go up-stairs, Wasiloff took advantage of her absence, placed a 32 caliber revolver against his right ear and pulled the trigger. His wife hearing the report of the weapon rushed down stairs and found her husband lying on the floor unconscious.

Dr Ellis, and Chief of Police John Doktor, of Ellsworth, were immediately called. Dr. Ellis ordered the man [illegible] to the Washington hospital. He was placed in the ambulance of J. V. McDonough but died enroute to that institution.

Funeral services were held at the Wasiloff home Sunday morning at 11:00 o'clock with interment in the Marianna cemetery.

In Society's Realm

Last evening, at the home of Mrs. Peter Lee of Crest avenue and Sixth street, the members of the Friendship Euchre club held their regular weekly meeting. An enjoyable evening at cards was spent, the favors being received by Mrs. John Moussiaux and Miss Estelle Connelly. Three tables were in play. At the conclusion of the games, Mrs. Lee served a dainty luncheon.

The members of the Thursday Afternoon Bridge club of Charleroi were entertained at the country home of Mrs. Frank Wolfe, near McKeesport yesterday afternoon with a luncheon and Mah Jong party. Besides the local ladies there were also friends from McKeesport present. In the Chinese decorated home, a delicious luncheon was enjoyed, followed by a delightful afternoon spent in playing Mah Jong. The favors were presented to Mrs. J. G. Albright, Mrs. Guy Woodward, Mrs. J. C. Worman and Mrs. C. F. Jenkins, all of this place.

The members of the Westminister Guild of the Washington Avenue Presbyterian church were honor guests at a meeting of the Leah Gelder Memorial Circle last night held in the church parlors. Miss Flora Roberts the president, opened the meeting, and welcomed the guests. Miss Ila Campbell entertained with a number of violin solos that were highly appreciated. A very interesting talk on Mexico, its achievements and customs were given by Miss Rosetta B. Rogers, who recently returned from that country. She displayed many interesting curios. Miss Elizabeth Cope played a popular Mexican air on the piano at the conclusion of Miss Rodgers' talk. A social hour followed and a dainty luncheon was served by the refreshment committee. There were approximately 42 present.

Resolutions of Respect.

It has pleased our Heavenly Father to take from our midst, Sister Jennie Geho. We bow in humble submission to the will of Him who doeth all things for the best. Her work is ended here below. She has gone where pleasures never cease, therefore be it,

Resolved, That Iris Rebekah Lodge No. 299, while bowing in humble submission to the will of Him who is ever present in the hearts of all true Rebekahs, will mourn with those who mourn and tender our condolement to those who were nearest and dearest to our beloved sister.

"In this dark world of sin and pain,
We only meet to part again;
But when we reach that heavenly shore,
We then shall meet to part no more.
The hope that we shall see that day
Should chase our present grief away."

Ruskin's Voice About His Only Attraction

I never met anyone in my life whose personal appearance disappointed me more than Ruskin's, writes Frank Harris in American Mercury. Until I saw him I had always believed that a man of great ability showed his genius in some feature or other, but I could find no hint in Ruskin's face or figure that suggested abnormal talent.

His appearance was not even prepossessing. He looked shriveled up and shrunken, though he was perhaps five feet seven in height; he was slight to frailty and stooped; in spite of a large nose, his face was too small, bony, thin and very wrinkled; the gray hair that must once have been reddish was carefully brushed flat; the beard and whiskers were gray, too, and straggling thin; the eyes were bright, grayish-blue in color, quick-glancing now, now meditative under the thick outjutting brows; the high aquiline nose was matched by a somewhat receding chin; nothing in his face or figure was impressive or arresting; his clothes even were loose and ill-fitting; his manner shy, self-conscious, unassured; I was disappointed to doubting his ability.

But as soon as he got excited in speaking I noticed his voice, a thin high tenor irresistibly pathetic; it often wailed and sometimes cursed, but was always intense. The soul of the man was in that singular, musical voice with its high rhetoric and impassioned moral appeal.

Faith and Reason

Redbird Got Its Name From Church Dignitary

At first thought it is difficult to see the relationship between the common redbird, or cardinal, and the hinges of the front door. The explanation is simple enough, however, when the words are traced to their source. The redbird was originally called a cardinal because his plumage bore the coloring of the hat and cassock of a cardinal of the Roman Catholic church. The use of the word "cardinal" as denoting a dignitary of the church came about through the poetic fancy of an early pope, who spoke of the cardinals as "the hinges by which all things are moved" in connection with church government. In the Latin language "cardo, cardinis," is the equivalent of the English "hinge." For this reason the dignitary was called a cardinal, as signifying his function as one of the "hinges" of the church. From this early usage "cardinal" came to be applied to anything of prime importance, including the cardinal numbers, the cardinal points of the compass and the cardinal virtues. The use of the word as applying to a color came about from the fact that the color was the striking feature of the dress of a cardinal. This explains the use of the word in naming the redbird.

Lapps Contented With Few Creature Comforts

No one knows when the Lapps came into Sweden, but for centuries this queer little people, a branch of the Mongol tribe, have wandered about the mountains with their reindeer, living a more or less nomadic life and holding their own in population, although not increasing in any number.

During the summer months, when the reindeer are on the move, the Lapp contents himself with a birch-pole tent covered with canvas or turf, so that it may readily be moved from place to place. Some of the homes have modern comforts, but as a rule the Lapp contents himself with very little, says the Baltimore Sun.

In autumn the young reindeer are marked on the ear with their owner's name. At this time there is a gathering of all the tribes, and, though to a stranger all reindeer look exactly alike, a Lapp will point out his own in the herd with unfailing knowledge. Nor does a Lapp remove his neighbor's mark.

A Man's Prayer

Teach me that 60 minutes make an hour, 16 ounces a pound, and 100 cents a dollar. Help me to live so that I can lie down at night with a clear conscience and unhaunted by the faces of those to whom I may have brought pain. Grant that I may earn my meal ticket on the square, and in earning it I may do unto others as I would have them do unto me. Deafen me to the jingle of tainted money. Blind me to the faults of other fellows and reveal to me my own. Guide me so that each night when I look across the table at my wife, who has been a blessing to me, I will have nothing to conceal. Keep me young enough to laugh with little children and sympathetic so as to be considerate of old age. And when comes the day of darkening shades make the ceremony short and the epitaph simple: "Here lies a man."—Herrington Sun.

Moonlight and Mockingbird

Late in the night from some vantage point—the tip-top twig of the tallest tree, the point above the crossarms of a telephone pole or the peak of the barn—flits a mockingbird, pouring forth his song.

The world lies deep in slumber. High over all rides the moon, its radiance veiled by a delicate mist that lightly drapes the ancient Ozark hills and shrouds the valley. Rest, peace possesses all, a silence deep, broken only by the voice of the wonderful bird. His music rises and falls, filling the hours with melodies rare and sweet, and having for accompaniment the soft sound of dewdrops falling from the points of the leaves on the Balm of Gilead trees.

Historic Battle

The name Battle of the Giants is given to a battle fought at Marignano (now Malegnana), near Milan, September 13-14, 1515, between the allied French and Venetian forces under Francis I of France, and the Italians and Swiss, commanded by the duke of Milan. The battle was hotly contested and resulted in a victory for Francis. The total number of slain is said to have exceeded 20,000. Trivulzio, who had been present at 18 pitched battles, called them all child's play as compared with this "battle of giants."

Will Be Record Bridge

What is to be the largest arch bridge in the world, costing more than $15,000,000, will be constructed across the harbor at Sydney, Australia. The total length will be 3,700 feet, more than half a mile, while the single arch in the center will have a span of 1,630 feet. The head from high water will be 170 feet, allowing the largest ocean liners to pass beneath. —Popular Science Monthly.

Where Iodine comes from

One of the greatest sources of Iodine supply for commercial purposes is Kelp, a large coarse sea weed. This explains why people who eat plenty of sea food never have Goiter; they obtain sufficient Iodine from the fish to supply the thyroid gland.

Goiter Prevention

has been reduced by medical science to the simple matter of using table salt containing a small amount of Iodine. MULKEY'S was the first IODINE Salt to be distributed for this purpose through the grocery trade.

It is just like ordinary salt in taste, color and seasoning quality, and should be used for cooking and on the table.

SAYS TUT-ANKH-AMEN WAS REALTY SHARK

Overcharged Abraham for Land for Wife's Tomb.

Washington.—King Tut-Ankh-Amen was a real estate speculator and Abraham was forced to pay forty times what land was worth in order to obtain a burying place for his wife, Prof. D. D. Luckenbill of the University of Chicago told the national association of real estate boards here.

"Ancient Babylonian and Egyptian civilizations endured just as long as the common man owned real estate," Doctor Luckenbill said. "In the Persian period the taxes rose so high that the small landholder was compelled to borrow yearly from the banker to meet his tax bill and put in a new crop. Soon we find them leasing their farms to the banking firms for sixty-six-year periods; in other words, they gave up the struggle. The story is the same for ancient Egypt, ancient Greece and ancient Rome. It may be the same for the United States.

"Mortgages and rent are as old as the oldest form of records. They were [illegible] of wedge-shaped characters in a time that antedated King Tut's reign as much as he antedates the modern realtor."

After quoting from Genesis the portion that relates to the death of Sarah, Abraham's wife, and Abraham's purchase, for 400 pieces of silver of a burying place for her, Doctor Luckenbill said that Abraham was overcharged because he was in a strange land.

"From a study of hundreds of ancient real estate transactions I am able to tell you," he said, "that Abraham paid from forty to fifty times as much as the field was worth.

"King Tut probably kept a thrifty eye open for bargains in choice suburban lots overlooking the Nile. He negotiated ninety-nine-year or longer leases on something besides his famous tomb, and drew plats for new subdivisions with 'quality homes at moderate prices.'"

CRIPPLED AT FIVE, HE WINS SUCCESS

Victim of Infantile Paralysis Becomes Noted Attorney.

Valparaiso, Ind.—Twenty-five winters ago he crawled in the snow across the campus of Valparaiso university and up the stairs to his class rooms.

Today he still crawls, but to the courtroom to represent clients who place all their confidence in him. He has won repute as an attorney.

Last week J. Willaid Moffett visited his old school again and crawled up the steps of the administration building to write his check toward the campaign which Valparaiso alumni are conducting to revitalize their alma mater.

Crippled for life by infantile paralysis at the age of five years Mr. Moffett has done without the use of his lower limbs, what few men do with bodies intact. It was difficult to crawl from place to place—almost impossible—but not once was he late to class. He was graduated from the School of Law with LL. B. degree in 1900.

Since then he has figured in some [illegible] the Supreme and Appellate courts of the state and has come to be the leading attorney of Huntington, Ind. He has repeatedly refused the honor of holding political offices because he prefers his practice.

"There is only one school where I could have received an education without [illegible] assistance, and that one is Valparaiso University," Mr. Moffett says. "I want to help in making it possible for others to get this assistance."

Bottle Papers Aid in Ocean-Current Study

Philadelphia.—Not all bottles thrown into the sea are dead ones according to Clarence Shomber, nautical expert in the United States hydrographic office at the customhouse.

Many an empty bottle he admits has been heaved overboard by skipper, passenger and crew alike, to gargle its way to a salty grave.

But many others having been forcibly squeezed of their former contents have had the prescribed form of bottle paper, furnished to mariners by the hydrographic office of the Navy [illegible] them securely plated in them, been tightly corked and sealed and heaved into the deep.

These forms contain spaces to be filled in by the person throwing the bottle overboard which show the name vessel, date, latitude and longitude, and the date and locality where the bottle was picked up.

Instructions on the form are in eight languages and direct the finder to send the "bottle paper" to any United States consul or to the hydrographic office, Navy department, Washington.

Carried and tossed by wind, wave and current, these "bottle papers" drift thousands of miles and are not found sometimes for years. They are thrown into the water to aid scientists in the study of ocean currents. One bottle thrown over off the Florida coast was washed upon a beach in Scotland.

Referring to this incident Mr. Shomber said:

"That was just a case of a bottle trying to get home. Often these bottles show the brand they use in board the ships."

Seasickness Is Great Handicap to Soviet Fleet

Riga, Latvia.—Seasickness is a great handicap to the activities of the soviet navy, says Naval Expert Lukashevich in an article in the soviet press discussing the necessity for long-distance cruising for the Red fleet.

It is impossible, the writer says, to speak about the preparedness of the fleet unless it has had practical experience with such cruising. At present the soviet fleet is manned by young factory workers, and he expressed the belief that more than half the crew would be out of action through seasickness in their first acquaintance with wind and waves.

In the Caspian sea during the Civil war, Lukashevich added, seasickness disabled 80 per cent of the crews, and the remainder had the greatest difficulty in saving the ships.

Chinese Girls Balk at Ancient Marriage Code

Shanghai.—All girls of China have absorbed the American notion that love is the real basis for marriage. The notion is so common in America now that it is taken for granted but Chinese girls defy all the traditions of 3,000 years when they voice such sentiments.

But a movement has started among all of the girl students in Chinese government universities which has [illegible] notion as its basis. Miss Mo Yumin an advanced young woman at the government university in Peking, first suggested the movement. And the readiness of Chinese girls to accept it was illustrated by the rapidity with which the movement spread to the schools of other cities, including Shanghai.

Get 107-Pound Sturgeon

Kimball, S. D.—Mrs. F. E. Reynolds of Kimball received word that her brothers, Harry and Ote Willits, at New Boston, Ill., 20 miles below Muscatine, on the Mississippi river, captured a black sturgeon 5½ feet long. It weighed 107 pounds.

Her Great TEMPTATION

He took her first marriage as simply a form—that it was one of God's ordinances as sacred as though a divine ceremonial had been spoken over her. And like thousands of other girls she listened with her heart instead of her mind—he believed him.

Hausner now the truth about life, what bitter anguish of soul she would have escaped! "His Great Temptation," which was also "her great temptation," is a powerful, heart-gripping narrative you won't soon forget. Send them scampering off to school in fresh, bright clothes made from EVERFAST WASH FABRICS

THE modern way to promote the health and comfort of children is to dress them in wash clothes all year round—in fall and winter as well as summer. And how well they look when you make their little frocks, suits and dresses of Everfast Wash Fabrics! These pretty and practical materials never fade. Tests without number have proved them fast to sunlight, fast to washing, fast to everything.

Our assortment of Everfast Wash Fabrics contains materials for children's aprons, rompers, suits and dresses. And for yourself there are charming weaves for dresses and frocks for work or play; and also lovely fabrics for table runners, bureau scarfs and luncheon sets. All can be washed and boiled and they will not fade. And you may choose from a glorious range of alluring colors.

Every Yard Guaranteed

If, for any reason whatever, any Everfast Wash Fabric fades, your money will be refunded not only for the purchase price of the material, but for all making costs of the garments as well. This guarantee applies to every Everfast weave and color.

STATE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE MEETS WEDNESDAY, OCT. 8

Harrisburg, Sept. 12—A more active part by the business man in affairs of government, the tax problem and a campaign to advertise Pennsylvania's greatness and advantages to the world at large are to be the leading subjects for discussion at the sixth annual meeting of the Pennsylvania State Chamber of Commerce at the William Penn Hotel, Pittsburgh, October 8.

Coming on the eve of the election which is to select a president of the United States to say nothing of important fiscal officers of the Commonwealth and members of the legislature business men are turning attention to this State Chamber meting as offering opportunity to hear and participate in discussion of vital topics of the day. The State Chamber membership comprises many leading figures in Pennsylvania business and industry and a large attendance is certain.

Alba B. Johnson, president of the Baldwin Locomotive Works in Philadelphia, will make the keynote address on "The Neglected Duties of Citizenship." Judge F. P. Schoonmaker of the U. S. District Court, Pittsburgh, will preside at the annual banquet on Wednesday evening and Charles A. Schwab and Secretary of the Treasury Mellon are on the program to speak.

On Tuesday, October 7, there will be a conference of the State Affairs Committees of the various local Chambers of Commerce throughout the State at which Ex Mayor Ira W. Stratton, of Reading, will discuss Home Rule Legislation A referendum of the membership of the State Chamber a year ago was much in favor of the passage of an adequate enabling bill in the legislature in order to make effective the home rule amendment now a part of the state constitution and thus pave the way for Pennsylvania cities to exert home control of municipal affairs Under existing laws, if a city wishes to have a business administration under a competent city manager it requires a special act of the legislature. At this conference which will be attended by presidents and secretaries of more than one hundred Chambers of Commerce, T C. Mirkil, manager of the State Publicity Bureau will present the subject of Community Publicity and explain a plan of cooperation between local Chambers and communities and the State Chamber's publicity work directed to touristic by which the communities will be enabled to tell the story of their respective advantages to people of other states in an effective manner

Speakers at the State Chamber meeting on Wednesday include: Norman H Johnson. Richmond, Va., a southern economist of parts; Franklin Spencer Edmonds, Chairman State Tax Commission; Charles S. Lamb, Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company; Hiram W Ricker, South Poland, Me. whose vision and practical publicity methods put the state of Maine back on the map when her industries were disappearing one after another. Mr Ricker will talk on "Advertising a State" Maurice S. Cook, chairman of the State Giant Survey Board is expected to talk on "Industrial Significance of Giant Power."

On the third day there will be a general conference of executives of State Chambers from all sections of the United States. A smoker on the evening of October 7 at which the Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce will be host, will enable the visitors to become better acquainted. President Johnson. following the usual custom, will give a breakfast to presidents and secretaries of local Chamber.

CONVENTION TO OPEN WITH A GRAND RECEPTION

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 12—Opening with a grand reception for all visitors at the beautiful state capitol on Monday evening, September 15, an elaborate program of entertainment has been planned for the sixth annual convention of the American Legion, it was announced by the convention committee today. Dancing in the corridors of the capitol will follow the reception.

Tuesday afternoon the streets of the city will echo to the march of 20,000 Legionnaires and others in the great convention parade, which is expected to be five miles long. Three hundred bands and drum corps are to be in line. That evening there will be a mammoth display of fire-works and a night aerial battle at the Minnesota State Fair grounds, with music from a massed band composed of all those at the convention. At the same time there will be the states dinner of The Legion Auxiliary at the Masonic emple, which will get the outing.

Boxing bouts with real headliners participating are also on the card for the conclave of veterans. High class vaudeville and inspirational entertainment will be staged at the auditorium on one evening of the convention.

Thursday evening the Forty and Eight will storm the town in true box car style. There will be a novel colorful parade from the headquarters of the playground of the Legion to the Union tation, where the voyagers will embark for the State Fair grounds and the jollification, at which 300 "poor goofs" are to be initiated.

On Friday Minneapolis will have charge of the entertainment features and something special is promised by the committee in charge. All the clubs and civic organizations will keep open house throughout the convention for the entertainment of the 60,0000 guests who will pour into the city for the big meet.

Various side trips are being planned. One will be to the Inter-State Park at aylor's Falls, fifty miles from here to see the glacial gardens one of themost curious natural wonders on the continent. After the convention there will be a trip to the iron range country in the northern part of the state.

WEATHER SERVICE MACHINE IS PLACED HERE

A standard weather service machine is now installed at the Victory Billiard and Bowling parlors, 512 Fallowfield avenue, for the daily weather reference of Charleroi's residents.

In conjunction with a standard thermometer, this machine is equipped with a standard weather bureau barometer, which records the weather from 16 to 24 hours ahead. Advertisemets of a portion of the merchants of the borough appear on both sides of the instrument board.

The directions for reading the barometer are as follows:

A rising barometer:

A rapid rise indicates unsettled weather.

A gradual rise indicates settled weather.

A rise with dry air and cold increasing in summer, indicates wind from the northward, and if rain has fallen, better weather may be expected.

A rapidly falling barometer:

Indicates stormy weather.

A fall, with increasing moisture in the air, and the heat increasing, indicates wind and rain from the southward.

Find Hudson Bay Trap

Chehalis.—An interesting relic of bygone days, possibly dating back to Hudson Bay times, is an exhibition in a hardware store window here. It is a monster steel trap, the sprung jaws of which would be powerful enough, it would seem, to hold an elephant. It was found [illegible] near Littell. Some believe that it may have been set many years ago by trappers of the Hudson Bay company, so antique is the type.

Girl Usher Left $50,000

Los Angeles, Cal.—Miss Genevieve Waddell, pretty seventeen-year-old usherette at a local theater, has just received word that she has been left $50,000 by her uncle, Walter Waddell, late banker of Everett, Wash. She will receive the money on her next birthday, February 18, 1925.
